Electoral Roll

The parishes of our Benefice are currently revising their electoral rolls, as required every six years. Anyone over the age of 16 who has been baptised is entitled to be included on the electoral roll of the parish in which they live, or regularly attend public worship. Inclusion means you can vote at your Parochial Church Council's Annual Meeting.

Application forms will be available in all the churches and can also be downloaded from <http://www.salisbury.anglican.org/resources-library/parishes>. When completing the form, inclusion of your email address will enable us to communicate church information rapidly to you, especially important at this time when we are appointing a new vicar. Please return the forms to your electoral roll officer or to the collecting point within your own church. I am collecting the forms for Odstock, Nunton and Bodenham and will be happy to redirect those for the other villages if you're not sure who your electoral roll officer is.

Spring to Life - Don't forget that we're now into the Spring to Life activities which were broadcast with February News and Notes, and which can be found on the N&N website. The Cabaret Evening on Friday 1st March in the Radnor Hall will be great fun, so please get in touch with me for a ticket.

Anna Treseder

Elizabeth Cutter, President, opened the 11th February meeting by welcoming members and three guests, and announced that Heather Morrison has joined the Committee. She thanked Dee Prince for her lovely spring flower arrangement. Reports on future Theatre trips, Scrabble matches, Skittles games, Walking Group events, Book Club and Gardeners meetings were announced. All dates and events are listed on the monthly "Dates for Your Diary" sheet produced by Wendy Duke.

WI correspondence and information about WI social events was read out, followed by the Treasurer's report. Copies of our Family Favourites Recipe Book were on sale. The meeting on 11th March is our AGM. WI Advisor Christine Walker will give a talk about how our subscriptions money is spent by WI HQ, and the benefits for members.

At the meeting on 8th April we will have a sales stall – please bring your unwanted Costume & Fashion Jewellery and Scarves. Susie is planning our Summer Outing for 10th July. Elizabeth has a copy of the Denman brochure for 2013. Anne Waight won the Flower of the Month with a beautiful Hellebore, "Yellow Petticoat".

Elizabeth introduced Mr Martin Plimsoll from the Alzheimers Society who gave us a very interesting, informative talk and film, "Singing for the Brain", about the admirable work done by the Society supporting people suffering from dementia in and around Salisbury. Hatty Hillier gave him our sincere vote of thanks.

Lent Project

*Adrian Taylor, Treasurer ONB PCC
Florida, Nunton Drove, Nunton, Salisbury SP5 4HZ*

This year, during Lent, the Chalke Valley Team churches are raising money for the Weston Lighthouse Project. Weston is a densely populated housing area of Southampton, where Tim Hyde and his colleagues from the Church Army do wonderful work among the residents. As well as providing food and furniture where necessary, they also organise a number of regular community activities.

Tim came and spoke to us at the Lent Lunch held in Coombe Bissett on 16th February, organised by the eastern end churches. He gave us an insight into the invaluable work that he and his team do, and why it is vital.

If you have access to the internet and would like to find out more about the project and Holy Trinity, Weston where it is based, click the link on the News and Notes homepage. Otherwise, let me know, and I'll give you some details.

The Lent Lunch raised in excess of £1,000, through ticket sales, donations and Gift Aid. If you would like to add to that splendid figure in support of the Lighthouse Project, you may do so at any time between now and Easter. I would be happy to receive donations, or you may like to give them to your own PCC Treasurer. If you are able to give, please indicate if you would like your donation to be Gift Aided. Thank you.

Charlton All Saints Garden Society

Our first meeting this year will be at 7.30pm on Monday, 29th April in the church when our speaker, Colin Fryer, will talk on "Gardens Open".

Britford Memorial & Community Hall

Philippa Hemming, Britford

I just wanted to write a small piece to thank the team who keep the Britford Memorial & Community Hall 'up and running'. I believe the hall was out of use for quite a few years and a team of Trustees was set up in 2010 in order to reincarnate the hall. There have been lots of fundraising events and the monies raised mean we now have a fantastic community hall. The hall is used for a wide variety of events (see N&N advert) and my family and I are regular users of it for children's birthday parties (MUCH easier than having a party at home!).

I feel that we are very lucky to have such a facility in our area and wanted to say thank you to the people who have enabled this. In order to keep the hall sustainable I understand that more weekly bookings are required so please ring Angela Wheeler on 01722 329766 if you would like more details or would like a tour!

Buggs Farm

Editor

I have received an enquiry from Mr and Mrs Pack of Chideock, who are working on their family tree. They are trying to trace Buggs Farm in Charlton All Saints, and believe its name may have changed. Mr Pack's Great Grandparents lived there, with their children, in the early years of the twentieth century. Their family name was Gould (but not related to the Goulds, formerly of Britford Farm Shop). One of Mr Pack's Great Uncles worked on "a farm in Nunton" in the 1920s. Another was Percy Robert Gould from Charlton's First World War Roll of Honour.

If anyone has any information that may be useful to Mr and Mrs Pack in adding detail to their family tree, I shall be happy to pass it on.

Volunteering

Colin Blackaby (of Fairhaven, Nunton Drove)

Following in the nautical theme in the February issue of N&N written by Julian Johnson, it may be of interest if I added my experiences as a volunteer helping to restore the tug-tender Calshot (see picture) that is moored in berth 50 in Southampton docks.

Whilst I still maintain contact, I was an active volunteer for five years and, like Julian, I have a love of ships, and with different opportunities would have enjoyed being a Ship's Engineer. I was, however, apprenticed in engineering for five years and my career always involved engineering both in sales and management.

My association with Calshot started almost by a chance meeting at a classic car show with a very forceful lady by the name of Elkie, who was looking for volunteers for Calshot. She asked "Are you any good at anything? If so, turn up at the Docks and come aboard and we'll see what you can do". They had two work days, Tuesday and Saturday, and as I was still working then I went on the Saturday. The ship was still owned then by Southampton Council and was in a sorry state with very little money coming from them to help in the restoration.

A little bit of history! She was built in 1929 by John Thornycroft & Co Ltd at Woolston shipyard Yard No 1093. She is 157 feet long, weighs 650 tons, has twin engines and twin screws, and was built for the Southampton IOW South of England Royal Steam Packet Co Ltd, later to become Red Funnel. She was the most powerful tug at the time in Southampton docks, and we have pictures of her handling most of the big liners including the Olympic (sister ship of Titanic) and the Queens etc. She also acted as a tender for taking passengers to and from liners moored away from the dockside and could carry up to 450 in two saloons for first and second class, all panelled in oak, and one saloon, very plain, for third class passengers.

In 1964, Calshot was converted by Smit at Rotterdam to diesel, and all her original steam engines and associated equipment were removed. These were replaced with two 600 HP straight eight diesels together with smaller diesels for electrical generation etc. This was sad in many ways but she needed a crew of eight to operate as a steamer and only four as a diesel, and operated with a much lower costing in fuel etc. If this had not been done, she would without doubt have been scrapped.

When I first went on board most of the electrics and machinery were inoperative and she had not moved under her own power for about ten years. Although very little money was available we were slowly able to start to get her back to life. Once I got the generator engine working, we could produce our own electricity, so we had power and lighting. Later I was joined by another volunteer who was a retired ex RN Engineering Officer. We worked well together and made good progress.

One of my biggest thrills was when we got the rudder to operate. This works on an electro-hydraulic system rather like the steering system on a car, but far more massive and complex. On a signal to the bridge, the wheel was turned hard to Port then hard to Starboard. I was standing on the dockside by the rudder and saw it move to full each side, with barnacles, weeds etc breaking off in all directions. It was quite an achievement by volunteers.

Only when all the other systems were up and running could we consider starting the main engines. They had not been running for at least ten years, although we turned them over manually, so they did not lock up. These engines start with either compressed air or cartridge. We started them on compressed air and finally got them both running. They sounded great and would idle at 80 RPM and run very evenly.

This gives you a little idea into what was done, and is still being done and achieved by volunteers. The friendship, satisfaction, frustration, are all experiences I would not have missed. Finally, volunteering can give you the opportunity to get involved in things that interest you, that you would not normally be allowed or able to do and in the process give you much satisfaction and pleasure.

(Many thanks to Colin for this, and to Denis Blake and Julian Johnson for their earlier articles. All we need now is a column on an aeronautical theme to complete the series of Trains and Boats and Planes! Ed)

Shop Manager Required!

The new Chalke Valley Community Hub project – to be located in the chapel building in Broadchalke - is moving ahead apace. A huge Government grant has been received, community pledges are rolling in, and contractors start work this week. We are on track to open in June and have now reached the stage where we are ready to seek applications for the job of shop manager.

This is an exciting opportunity to play a key role as part of the new Chalke Valley Stores at the hub of our valley community. We have decided to make this a job-share post (Manager and Assistant Manager) who, between them, will manage the shop and associated community activities, and lead an effective team of volunteers.

We are looking for friendly and approachable, well presented and highly motivated people who can work to high standards using their own initiative. At least one of the applicants will have some experience of the retail and service industry.

Given the mix of commercial and community that this new venture represents, you will be able to demonstrate effective management and leadership skills along with a confident, positive and diplomatic approach when relating to customers and colleagues.

Please call the Project Chairman (Ashley Truluck 01722-780852) or Secretary (Michael Roe 01725-519242) for further details and an application pack – or download from our website: www.chalkevalleystores.co.uk

We look forward to hearing from you. Don't be overawed by the challenge and feel free to talk to any member of the project team (names below) to get a better feel for what's involved. But above all – please send your completed application form, together with a covering letter and CV by Thu 21 Mar to: The Secretary, Chalke Valley Community Hub, Lodge Farmhouse, Hut & Lodge, Broad Chalke SP5 5LU.

34 – The average age of a first time buyer!

David Clayton - Bassetts

The results of the recent census showed a staggering increase in the number of properties being rented out. There was also research last year which reported that the average age of a first time buyer is now well into the 30s. And in our own modest way, Bassetts is also seeing the reality of these changes.

On the sales side, it is tough for young professionals to afford to buy with salaries low in the area compared with the price of property. Although there are some 95% mortgages back in the market, the interest rates are generally too high, making repayments unaffordable. There are also some government initiatives to help people buy new properties, but availability is limited.

With economic times still hard and annual wage increases severely limited, it generally comes down to the "Bank of Mum & Dad". With property prices stable, parents are dipping into their savings (or raising money out of the equity in their own property) to help their children either buy for the first time, or to move up the ladder e.g. from a two to a three bedroom house. Buy to let investors, looking for a good return, have also helped keep the local market relatively buoyant at the start of 2013, however most adults in their 20s are unable to buy, and are therefore forced into renting for longer. On the lettings side, we have experienced a gradual, but significant increase in the average length of time tenants stay in their rental properties – now over 11 months across Bassetts' ever expanding portfolio. Even when the economy starts to recover, the problem of affordability will continue to stifle young professionals' ability to buy. We are a nation of homeowners who expect their children to buy their own home at an early age. However, many adults (even in the local, reasonably affluent areas around Salisbury) will be forced to rent for longer. And in 10-15 years' time, I expect to see the start of a cultural shift where the expectations of most young professionals will be to rent for 5-10 years minimum, rather than rent for a short interim step before they buy!

There have been discussions in Parliament recently about creating longer term leases for tenants, and although nothing is currently on the table legislation-wise, I am sure this is likely to come in the next few years.
